OUR SINCERE THANKS

► We, the Courier Staff of June 1946, take this opportunity especially to thank the friends of the Courier who have contributed literary material, division lists, many valuable suggestions in the sports' section, the R. O. T. C., clerical work, and in stage preparation: Miss Lundquist, Mr. Wagenman, Mrs. Boomker, Mrs. McNamara, Mrs. Wertheim, Mrs. Wise, Mrs. Lewerenz, Mrs. Starcevic, Mrs. Egan, Miss Wilson, Mrs. Moroney, Miss McKirdie, Miss Ruth W. Robinson and her English classes, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Mathews, Coach Barder, Couch Dixon, Sergeant Putnam, Miss Kay, and Mr. Beals and the stage-crew. Our sincerest thanks are truly given to the Courier representatives, the Fenger faculty, and to the entire student body for their splendid co-operation throughout the semester.

Grateful acknowledgments are due to the many concerns for their beautiful illustrative material: to the Union Pacific Railroad, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, National Park Service, Wisconsin Conservation Department, Illinois Central System, T. W. A. News Service Photo, Georgian Bay Line, and H. L. Stanley of Colorado Springs, Colorado.

We wish to express our gratitude to Mr. Boyd, our principal, Mr. Kehoe, assistant principal, Miss Gallagher and Mr. Sanders, the assistant principals at the branches, for their backing and generous support.

Hats off to Miss Ruth Robinson, our faculty adviser, whose instruction and past Courier experience saved many a day for us. Without her advice and consideration the publication of this annual would not have been possible.

Finally, we wish to express our appreciation of the many courtesies extended to us by the people of this community. Thank you, each and all, who have contributed in some way or another to the success of our book.

America at Play . . .

◀ We have chosen as our theme—America at Play. Play may be defined as doing something which we like and want to do.

To some the reading of a book is play, to others play may mean sports, dancing, movies, listening to the radio, and even writing—play in its myriad forms.

In the professional photographs found in this book we have attempted to show different forms of play with which we may be familiar. Skiing, tennis, camping, singing, and hunting are typical activities in these pictures. All through the book one may see evidences of our theme in sketches and cartoons by our art department, excellent photographs by our able photographers. The theme may again be seen in the literature, in the interviews, poems, stories, and articles. We call your attention to them, and we are sure you will like the book because of the universal appeal of its theme.

We now give the June, 1946, Courier with the feeling that you will enjoy—America at Play.

Dedication . . .

Those Christians best deserve the name
Who studiously make peace their aim;
Peace, both the duty and the prize
Of him that creeps and him that flies.

COWPER

◀ A lasting peace — a phrase whose revival once more enchants the immortal.

Again we strive to obtain its glory and symbolic freedom so typical of our glorious land. True, we have suffered; our hearts have been torn by the hatred of distant, tyrannical powers, and once more we rise above the ruin, sowing and reaping the greatest harvest known to man — that indefinable goal to which we now dedicate the June, 1946, Courier—A Lasting Peace.

*A*fter years of devastating war, the world today has a new spiritual hunger. Even in victory, the war has brought its frustrations. New creations of science developed by the power of scientifically trained minds has stirred the fears of nations, and has engendered new unrests among all peoples. Dr. Conant, when asked where we could find the defenses against this new scientific instrument of destruction, this man-made machine of death, the atomic bomb, answered in characteristic manner, by tapping his forehead and then his heart. The answer to this universal fear is precisely what the world needs today, a revival of the moral and the spiritual. Man is still searching for the kind of life that will make existence brotherly and satisfy the longings of his heart. ¶ The world today with all its anxieties and fears is a world of mighty promise; it is a world of tremendous opportunity; it is a world for steady courage and brave new trust. We hope that your broadened vision will make a definite contribution.

J. Sumble Boyd

PRINCIPAL

*J*HIS book, the June, 1946, Fenger Courier, is a graphic record of what has happened at Fenger High School this semester. It puts into permanent form many fleeting glances that otherwise would soon be forgotten. Everything in life changes; time goes on in spite of efforts to check it. What seems so real and commonplace today will soon change and fade. Graduation is just a period of major change. As time passes and conditions change, this book will be one of the few tangible clues that you will have to these, the happiest, days of your life. Treasure it highly because it will become increasingly more valuable as a source of fond memories as days go by.

FENGER HIGH

Little did we realize
How fast the time would fly;
It seems like only yesterday
We first knew Fenger High!

Through her we met the nicest friends
We'll ever hope to find,
True friends who've been so loyal,
And in every way so kind.

And all the little big things
That she has done in time,
We couldn't quite begin to tell
Within this simple rhyme.

We only know the time has come
And we must say goodbye.
But yet we know we'll ne'er forget
Our dear friend, Fenger High!

ANNE ZE'GLER.....Treasurer

INDOMITABLE DICTUM

► The January Graduating Class of 1947 has proved, during the most eventful period in the history of the United States, that they possess fortitude and initiative, as well as faith and self-confidence. Their success is the result of three and one half years of hard work and study, under instructors who have been more than co-operative in their assistance to all. Our future depends entirely on our school records and achievements. Now we have but one remaining semester of happy school days in our album of memories, and certainly we should do our utmost to maintain the fine scholastic reputation which the enthusiasm of each member of our class has made possible. Thus we prove to our successors that the last semester in a high school career is the most important by far.

Thank you for your splendid co-operation and teamwork, and your wonderful support.

SARA VIOLANTE
4B Class Secretary

EXECUTIVE SUPREME

► I wish to express my sincere appreciation and thanks to the 4B class for bestowing on me the honor of being their president. I hope that together we shall insure our class being one of the finest and most active classes our school has had. Only teamwork and cooperation can lead us to the achievement of this goal.

During the first seven semesters we have endeavored to uphold the fine qualities of our predecessors. We now look back, and as thoughts of the past drift by, we begin to cherish all the ideals, happiness, and friends we have made during our high school years.

DOMINICK SUKOWICZ
4B Class President

IN THE EYES OF THE LAW

WHAT NOW?

RECIPE FOR THE FUTURE

► I, as the vice-president of the 4B class, am unable to express my appreciation fully and adequately. Our class, one of the best in Fenger, is nearing the goal for which all of us have worked so diligently. Although the goal may be in sight, we must not become too confident and thus lose all that we have worked so hard to attain.

As we start out in life, we will all go different ways, but sometime in our life, no matter where or what we may be, we shall look back upon the days of our youth, and the fond memories of our high school days will return, to be cherished forever.

VIOLET EVANS
Vice-President

OPTIMISTIC FORESIGHT

► Most of us realize that our school days are growing few and we will close, perhaps one of the most important chapters of our life book. But we'll go on with another chapter when we are on our own in the great world. As we look back, it seems but yesterday when we were "freshies".

Our class is one of which we may be proud. A large percentage of our students have been active in one field or another. Whether in football, baseball, in contests, or in scholarships, Fenger has made for itself a fine reputation. It is up to us, in our final semester, to carry on the work the past classes have accomplished.

With my deepest appreciation, I wish to thank all the representatives from each division for giving me splendid co-operation in the collecting of the dues.

Basketball . . .

► After taking third place, and having John Bruce placed as all-city forward in the University of Chicago Basketball Tournaments, the Seniors came back to have a 5-5 record in the South Section.

Messmaker, with his 146 points (third highest scorer in section) sparked the Titans. Schwetz, Godshall, DeHamer, and Bruce also starred.

In the first league game the Seniors defeated Harper 44-36 in handy fashion. The next game, a thriller, was lost to Hirsch in overtime, 37-36, despite Fenger's superiority. A 44-40 victory over Parker and a 42-31 setback by Calumet followed. In a heart-stopping game the varsity defeated Bowen 44-41 in one of the best games of the year. Then two 50-49 games were eked out by Coach Barder's lads over

FIRST STRING SENIORS

Hyde Park and Morgan Park, respectively, the former in an overtime game. Fenger dropped a 36-35 decision to Vocational in another close contest. The one point games came to an end when the Titans lost to South Shore 62-38. In the last league game the Seniors lost, 43-41, to Englewood, thus ending a fairly successful season.

Lettermen this year were Messmaker, Schwetz, Booth, Logan, Pentek, Buckley, Godshall, Bruce, and DeHamer. Returning for next year will be Pentek, Kupec, Wiese, Buckley, G. DeHamer, and Fornero.

Junior Basketball . . .

► The Juniors with a 6-4 record, just missed the playoffs this year. Their attack was led by Peterson (high scorer, 130 points), Slingerland, Soderstrom, Johnson, Tuftedal, and Maatman.

Our boys started out on the right track by trimming Harper, 44-25. Peterson led the scorers with 18 points. The next victim was Hirsch, the score being 43-20. At Parker the Juniors were trounced 64-32. Another Junior loss was a close 34-32 game that Calumet won. Fenger then defeated Bowen, 37-36, with Slingerland and Soderstrom scoring more than half the tallies. The trio of Slingerland, Tuftedal, and Peterson scored 31 points and were chiefly responsible for Hyde Park's 41-32 downfall.

After compiling a big lead throughout the game against Morgan Park, Coach Barder's charges just edged a 38-37 win. The Juniors third loss of the year was handed to them by Vocational, 43-38 win. Peterson was high scorer for the losers. Another Junior lose was a 39-28 game at South Shore. The season ended successfully for the Junior team as they whipped Englewood, 33-24, at Englewood.

Seven Juniors were awarded this year. They were Peterson, Slingerland, Johnson, Mattman, Soderstrom, Tuftedal, and Pawlowski. The latter four players, plus Nigohosian, Erickson, Hamill, and Wallin will return for next year's team.

BOWLING

► There goes the ball zooming down the alley—It's a strike! Yes, the bowling league had another successful semester, with fourteen teams participating. The scores of all the players is kept by Mr. Young, the sponsor. This semester Beluscheck shot a 603 high series. The high game was made by Landis, who rolled a 246 game. Another high scorer this semester was Million.

TUMBLERS

► Through all kinds of weather you can be sure of seeing them giving their best performances between halves at football games—those tumblers, a group of seventeen agile boys. For the second straight year, Mr. Young's boys were invited to participate at the all-city high school basketball games because of their exceptionally fine work.

To earn a pyramid letter, a boy must serve two years. Letter winners last semester were Terpening, Novak, A. Carlson, Anderson, R. Carlson, Cranfill, Lenzotti, Virene, and Chelinsky.

SENIOR SWIMMING TEAM

► After getting off to a slow start, the seniors came up fast to end the season with ten wins and seven losses. ◀ The team was sparked by the following men: Serapin, 100 free style; Capt. Delgado, 200 free style; Kleist, 100 breast stroke; Ramer and Walper, 100 back stroke; divers—Clawson and Morton; and relay men—Anderson and Waters. ◀ In the city meet held in April, Mr. Dixon entered three,

100 free style men, one breast and back stroke, two divers, a medley and a relay team. With many outstanding Juniors moving up as Seniors next year, our old nemesis, Tilden, better watch out.

BASEBALL

► Losing most of his regulars, after taking the City Championship last year, Coach Dixon still saw a chance to repeat again this season with ten new men, plus returning players, Pitchers—Johanson, Bolton, and Marchese; Catchers—DeLazaro and Price; First Basemen—Sliter and Gordon; and Outfielders—Giles, Godshall, and Curatolo. The managers are Eddie Nigohosian and Bob Horn. This year's team is a hustling, cooperative, and an ambitious group. Here's wishing them luck for another City Championship.

1946 STATE CHAMPS

JUNIOR SWIMMING TEAM

► This year the Junior swimmers had a successful season by winning thirteen of their seventeen meets.

The team had many outstanding swimmers including Free Style men—Capt. Kocolowski, Lazzarotto, and D. Anderson; Breast Stroker, Medland and Back Stroker, Steubing. Others doing fine work were Kuzanek, Benedetto, Cramer, DeYoung, Atkinson, Blais, Darling, and Hamby. With plenty of material from which to pick, Mr. Dixon didn't have any trouble in training a good squad for the city meet which was held in April. Since so many of the Juniors will be Seniors next season, a number of vacancies will be opened to new-comers, coming to Fenger.

TENNIS

TENNIS TEAM

► Coach Dave Barder now has about twenty candidates trying out for his newly-formed tennis team.

The representative Fenger team is made up of four players. The rest of the boys will be reserves. Two boys playing individually are known as the singles players and two boys playing together is the doubles team. The tennis season opened with the team playing other schools in the section. After the season is finished the team hopes it will be able to win or place in the individual championships which will be held at the University of Chicago this June.

Letter Girls

► A group of girls who are noted for their excellence in Gym and their readiness to help around the school, are the fifty-two members of the Letter Girls' Club. This alert and progressive group have attended bike hikes, splash parties, a baseball game, the Theater of the Air, and numerous other activities. During their "playday sessions," the girls select teams and then play a rollicking game of volleyball, baseball, or basketball. These games are loads of fun even if the score does come out 25-3. Oh, well, you just can't win all the time. Another project of this club was the re-decoration of the Anderson room. Thanks and congratulations are due Mrs. Jessie Anderson, their sponsor, and the officers, Marilyn Luedeking, Eleanor Gibbons, and Marilyn Zagar, for making this another successful year.

G. A. A. . . . PLAY TIME

► Maintaining the reputation of being the largest and most popular club in Fenger, is the G.A.A. The Valentine's and St. Patrick's dances, splash parties, hikes, and the spring dance were the highlight attractions of the season. But, we cannot fail to mention the May Festival which proved to be the most elaborate event of all combined. This top-notch entertainment started out with a number of dances and specialty acts by some of our talented fellow students. Then the processional began. (Did you ever hear so many oh's and ah's before!) In tribute to the new queen, Marilyn Bethig, the Glee Club sang a few selections. After the crowning of her majesty, the program again proceeded with more song and dance. Mrs. Matthews, our sponsor, and our officers, Jackie Pirch, Jessie Wilson, and Jackie Campbell, are the recipients of our thanks and appreciation for supporting our club.

NEAR THE TOP

► The people in division rooms sometimes form unusual impressions of us. It seems that John Barbee, John Herbert, John Jones, and John Soukup remind their division friends of the song "Oh Johnny." Violet Bancsi, Barbara Bell, Marie Brantley, Nellie Colomino, Bob Karas, Aida Presta, and Richard Raklovits are synonymous with "Caldonia" due to their "big hard heads."

The comical tendencies of Alice Dagon, James Gordon, Don Hanken, Rich Mahleem, Ray Peterson, Ken Rosenbloom, Lloyd Schultz, and Audrey Williams remind us of Tschaikowsky's Nutcracker Suite. "Hubba, Hubba, Hubba," is the cry of Loretta Felber, Eleanor Fioretti, Sylvia Johnson, Gloria Holland, Lawrence Holst, Boris Merkowsko, Janet Price, Lorraine Dryczewska, Elaine Stegena, and Don Stupegia. ## 3-B INTERVIEW FOR ALL

Hello, folks!

Fenger is mighty proud of her 3B's this year, and so we decided to have a friendly visit with them to acquaint all the rest of you "guys and gals" here at Fenger with your fellow 3B classmates.

It seems that the Juniors held a contest recently to see if they could discover the best girl and boy of the 3B class. Well, difficulties arose, and competition was keen. There were so many with the specified qualifications that something had to be done.

Therefore, the judges decided that convincing everyone of the many winners would be the most inevitable solution to the problem. Below you will find the results. If you have any or all of the assets which the fortunate people mentioned below possess, then you too, can qualify as a winner.

And now—we give you the most perfect boy and the most perfect girl in the 3B class at Fenger, on this beautiful day in June, 1946.

Our Leader

► The instructor of the battalion of cadets is Staff Sergeant Clyde J. Putnam. A veteran of fifteen years of Army service, he gained teaching experience by instructing at Harrison and Lindblom high schools, before acquiring his present position here. Having served overseas, he realized the importance of discipline and is injecting it emphatically into our training.

The unit has slipped a little under three military instructors in the past year, but under Sergeant Putnam's supervision, the cadets of tomorrow will be bound to uphold the standards we and our predecessors have acquired in our term of training.

Cadets in the Spotlight . . .

► This semester's outstanding cadets are Major Ernest DiJulio and Master Sergeant Rudolph Olsar, two students who made the City Staff. Special credit is given to Major DiJulio, for this is his second successive year on this staff. They are the second and third students from Fenger to accomplish this feat. These boys may be identified by a blue ribbon with two white stripes on their left shoulder. Because of their appointments to this staff, DiJulio was promoted from Captain to Major, and Olsar from First Sergeant to Master Sergeant.

They had received their coveted positions by passing a strict examination in Military Science and Tactics. This test consisted of questions dealing with military history, drill, and battle formations.

GEORGE TACKES, 4A
R.O.T.C. Editor

R. O. T. C. AT FENGER

► Once again we, the cadets of Fenger, are striving to put our unit on top at Federal Inspection. Fenger has consistently placed in the upper bracket of Chicago's R.O.T.C.'s, and several times has finished at the top. It's up to us to carry on these high standards. By hard work we can, and will do so.

Our placing second for two years in a row presents a challenge which we must better or equal. We have been trained to lead; we will thus measure our ability in city-wide competition with twenty-eight other school R.O.T.C. units.

"At Your Service" . . .

► When you walk into the crowded Hill Auditorium for some program after school hours, you will probably see two of the R.O.T.C.'s hardest working groups who receive little credit—the Ushers' Club and Color Guard.

The Color Guard has been invited, because of its precision, to participate in many parades and various programs.

The Ushers' Club, this semester commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Angelo Ydreó and First Sergeant George Tackes, has also rendered its service to many clubs and organizations. The main duty of the uniformed members is to maintain order in the Auditorium while the performance is on, and to direct the audience to their reserved seats correctly and quickly.

Cadets who have faithfully served in the club for three semesters or more are given school letters with "Ushers" printed on them. Those eligible to receive these letters this year are R. Carlascio, R. Broekstra, C. Lyon, G. Tackes, E. DiJulio, A. Boroian, A. Ydreó, A. Asa, J. Boersma, R. Dalenberg, V. Guisto, J. Olleris, R. Dian, W. Hahn, G. Simionitis, W. Staley, W. Ooms, H. Nordine, L. Sprouse, J. Jacobsma, O. Thomas, R. Asa, D. Stupedia, R. Olsar, and A. Carlson.

These fellows put in extra time to make a program just a little more pleasant for all.

LEISURE MOMENTS

► Are you mentally well balanced? Well, then you like to have fun. Heck! You don't even have to have a stable topside to like fun. Look at me! You know, I had a gab fest the other night with a few Fengerites (C. Lyon, A. Ydreo, G. Tackes), and we came to the conclusion that Fenger students are perpetual travelers as well as mirth-makers. Our basis for this conclusion was our observance on trips about this City Beautiful and also throughout the rest of this vast nation, during different vacations.

According to our narratives, on one occasion we took our "Model-A" up to Riverview, and guess whom we met at the gate: W. Loucado, A. Kopiec, L. Anderson, U. Jauch, D. Kocolowski, J. Torres, B. Kupec, V. Krocza, and A. Sukawicz. Later in Aladdin's Castle we bumped into T. Peterson, R. Frangella, A. Chanen, H. Becht. After a thrill on the parachutes, where we met R. Wallin, D. Garner, B. Lambert, M. Preston, and G. Prescott, we saw B. Adams, R. Carlson, C. Lindstrom, M. (Mmmm) Coda, O. Japanga, T. Gromala, and B. Prijian, racing each other at the Midget Race Track. We walked around awhile, and whom should we stumble upon staggering from the Bobs but J. Kukula, E. Panozzo, J. Jones, D. Stulitsch, M. Kuva, H. Plowmann, J. Tomasi, R. Soderholm, W. Rust, and R. Ovila, J. Koch, A. Peterson, R. Friar, J. (Blaze) Bovino, I. Lindsteat, A. Johnson, G. Gertoia, S. Bensing, S. Boone, and M. Anderson. They were arguing as to which was the better ride, the Blue Streak or the Silver Streak. Pushing our way into Spook Town we shivered into G. Stavia, R. Wormser, A. Gaudio, and C. Regoni.

We were thrown out of Riverview around three o'clock in the afternoon, so we coaxed our jalopy to Jackson Park, where we saw R. Johnson, W. Varnak, L. Weim, F. Lang, and E. Hughes admiring the Japanese Gardens.

We ended this perfect day at the Avalon Theatre, along with C. Ferency, I. Joza, and J. Strany.

Say! Speaking of theatres, guess whom I saw at the Tivoli the other night? Yep, J. LaFontaine! That same night Tackes claimed he saw E. Spanraft buying a ticket to the Capital. Huh? Oh, yes, we enjoyed the picture.

On another one of our jaunts we partly drove, partly pushed, the "car" to the Field Museum where we met S. Jonekos, T. Kopf, A. Joosten, L. Ghidoti, C. Fitzpatrick, J. Mosley, and J. Abramic. Later we ran into her again at the Brookfield Zoo along with M. Planka, V. Lenci, I. Wisniewski, A. Kovacs, I. Delgado, S. Gritz, M. Forstensen, A. Pellegrini, E. Gryczewski, D. Klein, and B. Rice. They were admiring the rest of the monkeys. What am I saying?

That same night we went roller skating and saw

I. Kolozy, J. Dorocke, E. Bakleman, Y. Fitch, L. Spanier, M. McFadden, A. Adduci, R. Stahly, J. Lambert, L. Redman, D. Loren, B. Starzyk, R. Weibel, I. Waitkus, L. Stosur, J. Johnson, G. Johnson, and J. Anderson. Here C. Maschmeyer was arguing with a bouncer, a dangerous sport. The word "sport" reminds me of the time we were at Wrigley Field, watching the Cubs. That was the time we heard G. Michas, R. Mullen, A. Pierson, and L. Belo yelling at the umpire.

This might prove our point that Fengerites are great seekers after pleasure. We took the I. C. downtown one Sunday (the "Model-A" had broken down finally) and walked about the Art Institute with F. Woodworth, J. Mellen-dorf, and B. Macak, then at Lyon's suggestion we walked over to the Tribune Tower, there we encountered D. Pierce, M. Housinger, and B. Simons.

On the bus, going home, we met L. Peek, P. Fasel, E.

Sebak, A. Southard, D. Laxton, C. Ward, B. Humphrey, J. Bergstrom, and D. Davis, who just left the Museum of Science and Industry. On the second bus, we saw L. Taylor and R. Wahlstrom coming home from Navy Pier, where they had had a good time absorbing the Pacific War Show.

Another story had to do with a longer trip on which we met Fenger students galore. That day we went horse-back riding to Roby's, along with S. Sartori and D. Schous-tra. We decided to tour the country in our then repaired super deluxe "Model-A."

We headed first for Cassopolis, Mich. I heard M. Mastey was there at the same time we were. Our next destination was Benton Harbor where we encountered Mr. Meneghetit, L. Sieni, and Y. Williams. After a little engine trouble we jogged into Holland, Mich., just in time to view the Tulip Festival and D. Miller and M. Mills. Then we prepared for a long trek to Stepheson, Michigan, where, by the way, we saw J. Nickel. It took us forty-eight hours and six blow-outs to make it, but, we won. From here we took a ferryboat (one of Ydreo's brainstorms) to Wisconsin, and drove through the edge of the North Woods, where we found L. Dason, C. Warrington and E. Walter.

We sold the "relic" in Land O'Lakes, Wisconsin, (as I recall, the engine fell out) and in view of M. Sloan, we took a bus to Superior, Wisconsin. Yes, I know, B. Jurek, you were there! From here we railed for Lake Geneva meeting K. Bauza, L. Rocka, J. Sportiello, N. Carli, B. Belcher, M. Tropornichi, J. Salchert, A. Riements, G. Connie, H. Osborn, L. Johnson, B. Madsen, N. Nelson, G. Such, R. Morgan, C. Nelson, D. Schmid, L. Grand, J. Jones and G. Kramer on the way.

An even longer trip, and the last one we talked about was a tour we took during one summer vacation. Our interest had turned to the East, so we grabbed a train for New York. No-oo-o, it wasn't a freight train. On our way to old New York we stumbled upon C. Sims, M. Arehart, H. Van Howe, and J. Sudantas at the Dunes; J. Martusevic, T. Smith, C. Roystar, M. Skibbe, C. Redman and M. Ryan in Canada, and G. Schultz, A. Andrin, and V. Alamsha, at Niagara Falls. Ah, New York, great place! Yep, great place. Ask R. Roberts, J. Reid, F. Simans, C. Hoffman, W. Hamill, C. Benes, M. Ufheil, V. Vezzetti, G. Udvare, D. Kunst and L. Mackintosh, some of whom we met at Coney Island.

From New York we crept to Miami Beach, Florida, in a bus more dilapidated than our 1929 "Model-A." That bus ran on 50 per cent fuel, 50 per cent prayers. There we saw E. Arwood, M. Fochesato, N. Coburn, B. Gerecz, R. Horn and T. Barr. We didn't stay long in Miami Beach; they charged us five bucks just to look at a hotel.

The ride West on the Greyhound bus, we found relaxing as well as interesting. Along the way to sunny Cal., we found C. Ferm, N. Williams, C. Huizenga, D. Bowman, G. Holland, P. Senechal, L. Hummel, R. Soderstrom, J.

Clark, D. Paholke, D. Witt, M. Kuiken, A. Parker, H. Panwell, M. Rogers, B. Lawrence, C. Mulford, and R. Toth. Upon our arrival, whom should we encounter, but H. Elliot, D. Kaminsky and H. Evans. It took a week of coaxing to get my fellow Courierites to leave for home, and another week elapsed before we arrived home. I got there just in time to receive an offering from one of my uncles pertaining to a tour of the foreign countries as well as another trip about the United States. My uncle's name? SAM!

2-B's COMING UP FOR THE THIRD TIME

► Nicknames are the epitome of high school life. Since laughter, friends, happiness and all other good memories of school days are reflected with the use of nicknames, we of the Courier Staff decided to make a permanent record of their nicknames for the sophomores. We talked with them, discovered what charming people they were, and last but not least we found out their nicknames. And here they are—the nicknames of the 2B's.

SENIOR ORCHESTRA

► Fenger has had many fine orchestras, but we all feel that the present one is the best. Mr. Trimble, their director, deserves much of the credit for helping these musicians to establish the ratings that they have, and we are all very grateful to him. The group has participated in many programs such as the Varieties, Music Festivals, and last, but not least, the assemblies. We are very proud of the Senior Orchestra and hope that it will advance even more than it has.

SENIOR BAND

► A stand-by on which we can always depend is our Senior Band, directed by Mr. Burnham. Perhaps we hear them most often at our school assemblies. But of course they have become even more well known because of their beautiful music at the Varieties and Music Festivals. We know that, whenever they are called on to participate, they will do their very best to satisfy.

ADVANCED CHOIR AND MIXED CHORUS

► At Fenger we are fortunate in having these fine musical groups, known as the Advanced Choir and Beginners' Chorus.

The Choir and Chorus sing quite a varied number of songs, ranging from the sacred to the popular. Some heard this semester were: "Praise to the Lord"—F. Melius Christiansen; "Lost in the Night"—Christiansen; "Open Our Eyes"—MacFarland; "Soldier Rest"—Dorid Nyvall, Jr.; "Say Thou Lovest Me"—Noble Cain; "This Is My Country"—arranged by Fred Waring; "Serenade"—Romberg; "Italian Street Song"—Victor Herbert.

Because of illness, our director, Miss McCready, has been out of school since the middle of last semester. We hope she will regain her health and be with us once more. Meanwhile, Mrs. Wiersema has been substituting for Miss McCready, and we are very grateful to her.

The group has sung for many occasions, the Music Festivals, the P. T. A., and last, but not least, the annual Choral Concert. This concert takes place yearly just a few weeks before Christmas, and includes such traditional songs as the "Cherubim Song," "Silent Night," and "Lovely Appear."

The beautiful Music Festival held this year on May 24 was performed by the Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, the Band, and the Orchestra. I am sure that we were all deeply impressed by it.

It is truly inspiring to hear these boys and girls sing fine music, because at Fenger we have been taught to love and appreciate such music.

► Beautiful music? Of course we will call on our Girls' Glee Club, who really can furnish it for us. In it are one hundred and fifty members who sing because they truly like to do it.

Some of the songs in their repertoire are: "The Lord's Prayer" — Malotte; "Echo Song" — Di Lasso; "Dark Eyes" — Riegger; "A Violin Is Singing in the Streets" — Koshetz, and "It Might As Well Be Spring" — Rodgers. The girls have participated in such programs as the Music Festivals, graduation exercises, Christmas assemblies, and, last of all, the "Citizens of Tomorrow" broadcast.

Because of their beautiful singing, they are rated high as favorites in Fenger.

SIR HENRY NEWBOLT

MT. VERNON

Miss Winifred Gallagher

► Numerous questions occurred to us as we journeyed thru the majestic corridors of Mt. Vernon—Province of the vast kingdom known as Fenger! Being in a jovial mood we sought first the court jester thinking to quiz him regarding some of his more ribald experiences in the court—but to no avail! We happened upon a group of Ladies-in-Waiting relating fond tales of their "younger" days and we learned that even those of such high esteem have their most embarrassing moments also.

The Lady Angeline (Schubelek) told of the incident when she tried to board the Royal carriage—you know those big red and yellow jobs known as street cars—for four cents, much to her regret. Sir Wm. Johnson told of his experience while going off a high dive. The Lords D. Nagela, F. Berg, J. Palmquist, B. McFarren, and D. Waller wanted to get in on the narration side of this conversation, but were forced to admit they didn't remember anything that was very interesting. The Grand Dukes R. Nack, G. Balafas, R. Rudlewski, T. Pearson, R. Reiter, B. Petersen, L. Roloff, and Lords J. Peterson, H. Albrecht, R. Berry,

Our stroll took us to that huge Amphitheatre (the gym) where the gladiators (the 6' 2" bunch) were endeavoring to display their prowess not with their discus but with the basket balls. Such strenuous activity is undoubtedly what brought up that ever popular topic—Vacations! A great many members of the court enjoy magnificence so much they want to go to Florida to view the great beauty offered to them there. Those in this category were the Sirs A. Stepicka, E. Reynolds, J. King, G. Sytsma, O. Niermann, M. Forners, G. Gould, A. Connelly, C. Blake, and

H. Knoll, R. Mack, D. Olstrom, E. Westra, R. Swanson, J. Jedlicka, and J. Kooiker were of the group to choose this form of diviation from court life.

The Dukes and the Duchesses were not so different from the rest of the assembly in their opinions as to what constituted a pleasureable time. As for Sirs M. Douglas, J. Holland, J. Roscoe, P. Heath, J. Hogberg, R. Frodin, B. Hills, R. Ludin, J. Maiadra, F. Rudd, N. Pantajis, D. Walter, and M. Geeding it was their thought a holiday is all that is needed to overcome the effects of fatigue and Christmas certainly offered the greatest amount of time. Easter was the favorite holiday with the Lords F. Hudson, B. Jewell, B. Kreischer, F. Mels, A. Oakes, B. Kerchner, T. Gilbertsen, L. Newburgh, D. Kocera, and D. Kristiansen. The 4th of July was the choice of Sirs A. Bonnar, M. Olson, H. Lundberg, C. Bukowicz, J. Kulilius, H. Doughty, B. Phillips, B. Hull, S. Johnson, and L. Jones. The Lords D. Hindes, J. Ross, M. Norman, and L. Smith, B. Lundberg, and B. Maloney say their birthdays are their favorite holiday. The New Year is greeted at court with great rejoicing by their Graces L. Mallik, J. Doty, D. Frank, J. Zimmerman, J. Congel, J. Boersma, M. Bohmeus, J. Ablstrand and R. Gallacher.

At this point the conversationalists gave forth with a torrent of views as the subject changed; and they expostulated on their pet theories as to what could be done if one were the king or queen for a day. Lady Ruth Foley would give her "loyal subjects" a week's vacation. This vacation won the approval of the Dukes and Duchesses E. Vezina, M. Hylander, D. Miller, R. Ohse, G. Strappason, E. Kotik and E. Hyland. A large and magnificent party what E. Franson, B. Zirick, K. Jentene, A. Sullivan, C. Manzardo, H. Weiss, S. Marshall, J. Adams, and B. Heim want when they are kings and queens. Sir Martin Olson thinks a king should have his own car and fishing equipment so that he may go up north to fish. The group who agree with Sir Martin were Lords L. Smith, V. Boersma, A. Oakes, and M. Bohmeaur. Fishing is fine for the king but the queen (if athletic) should go swimming, thinks Lady Florency Kuliluis. The Lords and Ladies S. Johnson, B. Phillips, N. Thorp, R. Vander Steeg, and L. Mallik agree with her.

Having enjoyed ourselves so immensely we were amazed to find the hour so late and left to beat a hasty retreat to the palace Fenger in hopes of finding peace so that we might mull over the incidents of the day.

Burnside Flashes

► While speaking with Burnside branchites the other day your branch editor learned a number of interesting facts as to what they had heard about the main building. It seems the branchites have mistaken conceptions as to its actual size. Its halls extend only a block, and not a mile as, C. Smith, E. Jones, O'Hara J. Orendach, N. Wilson, H. Szabo, and M. Huszti believe they do. Nor are the halls so long that a person cannot see from one end to the other, but R. Dillman, G. Feske, M. Anderson, S. Toth, E. Bell, J. Calomino, and L. Wright seem to think that they do.

The main building will, without a doubt, be confusing to the branchites when they first arrive. But I do not think they will be lost during the first weeks there as, S. Kasza, C. Gray, J. Anderson, R. Barney, T. Covato, L. Parrish,

B. Wehollich, D. Wenk, M. Tartar, T. Lucas, D. Johnson, P. Noonan, E. Philpott, D. Jordan, B. Guzinski, J. Thorp, D. Presley, and D. Slaughter think they will be. Some of the students have the idea that the upper classmen spend their time trying to be "snooty," and to confuse them when they come over. J. Leonard, M. Musacchio, C. Carter, J. Brown, R. Butler, H. Pugh, R. Formosa, D. Botts, S. Riley, W. Ruffins, B. Scholz, B. Bush, R. Thomas, and E. Lakota are some who have that idea. But, on the contrary, they will find that the upper classmen are quite helpful.

Several of the branchites are under the impression that we have elevators here at the main. G. Palermo, B. Washington, B. Wilber, R. Ertler, B. Johnson, D. Nesci, J. Vasther, J. Martensen, M. Huszti, J. Darnay, E. Byers, M. Aurich, C. Novello, B. Taksacs, E. Lakata, C. Nard, and J. O'Neil can hardly wait for their first ride. I hate to disappoint them but we have no elevators at the main, though we do have a dumb waiter.

Fenger is quite a famous school for sports, as most of us know. The branchites are waiting the time when they can participate in these sports, and also see our famous teams in action. H. Pugh, L. Galambas, B. Adams, D. Wenk, F. Soppet, S. Toth, C. Smith, M. Arcuri, O. Martin, A. King, and E. Esposito say football is their favorite. C. Groggs, C. Branch, M. Kubo, O. Martin, D. Clemet, F. Soppet, M. Steward, D. Day, M. Macias, A. Denkowicz, G. Price, S. Mosley, R. Hura, J. Brown, and others say baseball is the game they will be rooting for.

Fenger offers many activities, such as, Drama, Science, Math, and Debating Clubs. Then there are others, the G. A. A., B. A. A., Saddle Club for you aspiring athletes. Several of the branchites are desirous of entering into these. P. Miller, R. Gergley, M. Ertler, C. Carter, and M. Gbur are some of these who plan to join these clubs as soon as they reach the main.

On the same visit, your branch editor learned that Burnside seems to have a number of book worms who were bubbling over with the desire to tell you what they like and dislike about their reading.

Take L. Riley, for instance, The Little House on Sunners is the story he likes best for several reasons, the main one being that it is about real people her own age. Up at City High seems to hold E. Philpott's attention to the very last page; this she explains, is because the book deals with problems and their solution by people like herself. Seventeenth Summer proved to be a very wonderful book according to I. Darnay and B. Washington. They are quite interested in the main character's first date. (I wonder why?) Then there is B. Harrison who has just finished a long fascinating tour through the World of Science, which she says she enjoyed immensely, and she will probably read again. Lorna Doone, it seems, is very popular with a number of people. A. Lessard, C. Phillips, H. Pugh, L. Wright, D. Presley, J. Itson, M. Mayberry, and I. Martin claim it as one of the best books they have ever read. Lions on the Hunt captivates E. Esposito to its last exciting breath-taking page.

One of the greatest known types of books is the suspense novel. Of this kind, Ellery Queen is one of the finest according to R. Huhra. Another good book of the suspense type is Secret Garden says I. Molnar. Those who want real excitement and good mystery, read Treasure Island say R. Yarbrough, and J. Calamino with real enthusiasm. Another one of these hair raising writings is The Count of Monte Cristo.

Getting down to more peaceful things, E. Bell suggests the reading of The World Today for its human interest.

Final Bell

Along that line D. Clemons believes that reading of the Five Little Peppers would be excellent. For its comedy H. Reese read I Never Left Home. He says it keeps one laughing to the past pages.

For those who like animals H. Leonard says the three Silver Chief books are just about the best. D. Wenk believes Smokey A Cowhorse will also please this class.

Other good books are Little Lady according to E. Dillman, and A Challenge to Marion, says G. Clemons. For real chills and thrills J. Burns has read Bluebonnett Bend and gives it his vote, whereas R. Barnay claims Charlie Chan as the best.

A few branchites have read war stories which they enjoyed very much. Take T. Cavato for instance; he read The Raft, a story showing how much a human being can endure. Stories of flying seem to hold the attention of M. Kubo, as he rates Silver Wings a story of breath-taking excitement and flying thrills.

Well, I guess this rounds up my little visit to Burnside, so I shall be on my merry way.

I HEAR MUSIC

► "I'll See You in My Dreams" and "With a Song in My Heart"—those are the songs the Harmonaires sang for the "Fenger Variety Show." The Harmonaires are well voiced singers. They meet every Monday in 226 under the direction of Mr. Trimble. Mr. Trimble and Marguerite Weber their president, straighten out the rough notes. The Harmonaires have had many successes and they have a bright future ahead.

ORDERS! ORDERS!

► No, the duties of the Courier Representatives are not so simple as one may think. Before the arrival of the Couriers, they must first urge the students to have their pictures in the book. Later on, the representatives begin collecting from their division members to pay for the books, approximately twenty-five to sixty dollars in all denominations. Finally the Couriers arrive; with a look of satisfaction upon their faces, the representatives distribute the books to the pupils. They have again come through with a job well done. And it is well done as the Courier Representatives have sold Couriers to over 90% of the entire school.

THE MEN BEHIND THE SCENES

► One of the least heard of groups in the school is the Stage Crew. Their job is to run the shows you see in our auditorium. Every person has a definite assignment. One boy manages the lighting and another the spot, another the P. A. system. On the stage proper, the other boys set scenery, all under Mr. Beal's direction. His chief assistant and stage manager, Einar "Herbie" Sundstrom, makes sure the work is done. Through the efforts of Mr. Beals and his stage crew, Fenger has one of the best equipped stages and finest auditoriums in the Chicago schools.

DON BROSSEAU, 3A

SCIENTISTS SUPERIOR

► One of the most outstanding organizations in Fenger High School is the Science Club. This group—a chapter of the national organization, the Science Clubs of America, and headed by Bill Davies—meets Wednesdays in room 303 for interesting science movies and experiments. When the weather permits, Mr. Bennett, the sponsor, hopes to tour museums and industrial plants with his group. By the way—like interesting reading? Read the "Science Report," published by the club.

RICHARD TRAYBSZA, 3A

FENGER'S OWN BAND

► Fenger's own band is the Jam Club, which consists of thirteen fellows and one girl, the pianist Joan Kingma. Mr. Trimble, their sponsor, keeps these cats in hand but when they see that notation "Solo Ad. Lib.", they really let go. If you heard them in the Varieties you know what I mean. Their leader is Andy Szlaga, the first trumpet, and they are always willing to play at any affair. These Fengerites are on their way to real success.

PUBLISHING THE FENGER NEWS

► "Get fifty per cent of your copy in before Thursday." That phrase is well known to members of the Fenger News Staff. In this semester's series of fourteen issues, many improvements have been made, foremost of which is an increased number of better pictures.

Reporters get the thrill and experience of actually working on a newspaper run by and for them. But work is not all that is offered.

One of the most eagerly anticipated events is the semi-annual banquet, which was held this year on June 6 at Mickleberry's. Soon after, initiation ceremonies for Quill and Scroll, the honor society for journalists, took place on June 20.

Looking for excitement? There's never a dull moment on the Fenger News Staff!

IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF MERCURY

► Among the many persons who serve our division rooms are the News Reps., a group of students who are kept busy every Thursday morning, distributing papers, collecting money, and turning in news items. To make their division room 100 per cent is their aim. These boys and girls are chosen by their division room classmates every semester. Under the splendid leadership of Miss Taylor, they are doing a very good job, and deserve a lot of credit.

► "Halt! Who goes?" is a familiar cry among the marshals throughout the day. The marshals are an organization to which belong two hundred members.

The group is sponsored by Mr. Fristoe, and led by a colonel and lieutenant colonel; during each period there is a major, a captain, two lieutenants, three sergeants, and three corporals. The duty of a marshal is to clear the halls of pupils during the period.

A SECOND DEBATING CLUB

► "There isn't any?" "That's what you may think, but I say different." When the Student Council meets, you could imagine you are attending the Debating Club instead. The Student Council is a body of students elected from the different organizations and rooms of the school, meeting to settle student problems. President Don Fregeau, with Mr. Brinkman, the sponsor, calls meetings once a month in room 117. A project of this semester is the cleaning up of the lunchroom under the leadership of Dorothy Bojnowski.

► Ah! Fresh air, sunset, a cool breeze, a horse! What could be better to rest your school-weary mind than to have a horse carry your woes? Oh! Wait a minute! The idea is not to kill the horse; Miss De Haan, the Saddle Club's sponsor, wants to prevent that, and also wants to teach you to ride and enjoy it. So come, you tenderfoot; we'll be seeing you.

JOHN BRANDT, 3A

LET'S DEBATE

► Oh! So you like to debate! Then you are sure to be interested in the Debating Club. Some of the topics chosen by its program committee, of which Bob Fogli was chairman for the club, are as follows: "Should G.I.'s marry foreign girls?" "Are unions justified in demanding higher wages?" The president for the past semester was Miriam Erickson, who, with the aid of the sponsor, Mrs. Wertheim, had a very profitable and successful season.

RICHARD WARANIUS, 3A

SALUDOS AMIGOS

► Wait! Don't turn the page. I would like to introduce you to the Pan-American Club, an organization strictly for students of third-year Spanish, conducted by Phyllis Lindell. In addition to having fun singing songs, playing games, and telling jokes, the students learn many interesting facts about our South American neighbors. Later, many students will find the extra things they learned through the club are invaluable.

QUILL AND SCROLL

► A Quill and Scroll pin is a repre-sentation not only of hard labor, but also of the desire and the uncanny ability to write. The Fenger chapter of the Quill and Scroll, under the sponsorship of Miss Taylor, was or-ganized here at Fenger in 1934. Its aim has been to encourage the stu-dents to put forth their fullest effort in producing good articles. A candi-date must be in the upper third of his class; he must have had 200 inches of printed copy, and samples of his work must be approved by the Society's judge before he is admitted to membership.

The newly elected officers for this semester are John Jacobson, president; David Kaminski, secretary; and Wendell Touhy, treasurer. These efficient officers have organized a definite subject to work on, which will chiefly be trading stamps. The club maintains its own catalog service through which to find the values of the stamps being traded.

They also discuss the matters of selling football tickets, having parties, and assemblies. The day following each president tells his division about the previous meeting. If there are any problems in the division, they are taken up at the next meeting of the room presidents.

THE GIRL BEHIND THE COUNTER

► Whenever a serviceman, teacher, or parent walks into the office, there is always a girl to greet him or her. This girl, under the capable sponsorship of Miss Kay, is an office secretary. She is always busy putting mail in the teachers' boxes, going after boys and girls Mr. Boyd wants to see, filing articles, looking up programs, and telling teachers their packages have arrived. Much can be learned by working behind the counter in the school office.

JOHN BAFFA, 3A

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

► Eager students at Fenger and throughout the United States strive for the opportunity of belonging to the National Honor Society. The eligible few are chosen from the upper one-third of the 4A, 4B, and 3A classes. ## THE FENGER HOSTESS CLUB

► The Hostess Club, sponsored by Miss Johnson, is an organization of about thirty girls who meet the first Tuesday of each month. The object of the club is to learn the art of entertaining and everything necessary to be successful hostesses.

The club serves on all occasions—teas, banquets, luncheons, and parties, (and is planning for the teachers' spring tea to be held at school). These girls have chosen the following officers: Marion Arouthnot, vice-president; Marilyn Halverson, treasurer, Marilyn Johnson, secretary. The group is often invited to different homes to entertain.

SHORT CIRCUIT?

► No, don't get excited, kids, a fuse didn't blow. It's only the reelmen, getting the classroom ready for another one of those enjoyable pictures.

The twenty-two members are supervised by Mr. Garlick, who teaches them to operate, and make minor repairs on the machines, and also, how to splice films. It's the efforts of these boys and girls, that make it possible for us, at Fenger, to see the movies which make our subjects more interesting and pleasant.

RUSH HOUR

► Every period several girls come in to help in the library, working under the supervision of Mr. Jenkinson, head of the library, and Mrs. Smith, his assistant. The tasks they do are not hard but very interesting. One girl, all semester long, is at the desk. She tells the other girls their duties each week. Shelves are to be read, library slips collected and brought to the study hall teachers, and books shelved. The girls rotate from one job to another each week. It is all volunteer work.

Night

► Have you ever watched the night? Perhaps you have never thought of it as anything to see, but it really is. It is like a great wing spreading over the earth and covering it with the soothing feathers of darkness. I have lain with my face to that ceiling of black and wondered at the mightiness of the hand that studded the sky with jewels. I have wondered about those worlds that lay beyond man's reach, and I have thought, "In my Father's house are many mansions . . .", but men say that life is too short to wonder about the mysteries that can never be unfolded to us. Of what use are the stars to us, but to guide the lost fisherman, and yet if that be their only use, then they have not been made in vain. Men come and go in their puny span called life, and yet not one has ever had the power to change dark to light. Let the darkness come! Let the creatures of earth rest awhile from the tumult of care until a new day dawns. Let the world sleep until tomorrow.

It Might Have Been

"For of all sad words of tongue or pen
The saddest are these, it might have been."

Yes, those are the saddest words a mortal knows, for although success is sweet, failure bitter, the knowledge of not having tried at all pierces the very heart.

To attempt a job, to stay with it, and to give it your very best is an ultimate goal to which everyone should strive. If failure should stalk your path, you have the knowledge that you chose the right path and gave it your superlative best. Be not discouraged either, for to make your way in the outside world perseverance, fortitude, and courage are not only necessary, but imperative.

It Might Have Been

When life's long journey is over,
And the judgment hour's at hand,
With our souls sad and remorseful,
While before our God we stand,
As before our eyes there flashes,
Our life and all our sin,
Shall we then, too late, consider
Just what it might have been?

Speak Softly

Speak softly of those who died,
Upon a frozen ground,
For they shall never see,
The sky so blue, the sun so round.

The flowers will bloom, the birds will sing,
Speak softly of those who died.

Paul Revere

Paul Revere, our hero dear,
Went on a midnight ride;
O'er hill and dale, down yonder trail
He warned the countryside.
"One if by land, two if by sea,"
He thought the time was near
To hurry down to yonder town
And warn them not to fear.
So give a cheer for Paul Revere,
Our faithful hero true,
He saved our land with his brave stand

Two Fish

Once there were two fish a-swimming
In a lake so full and brimming,
Summer came and so did man,
Wanting these fish in a pan.

Imagination

► "General Washington defeated the British,"—the teacher suddenly stopped speaking! A boy of sixteen was day dreaming, his face turned into the spring wind which was blowing through the open windows. Picking up a ruler, the substitute teacher whipped it across the desk, causing a sharp, slapping sound. The boy's face turned toward the teacher.

"Why aren't you paying attention," she asked. "Well, speak up, and it better be good!"

The boy stumbled to his feet, and faced the window. The clean, fresh spring air bit his face and ruffled his hair. "Out there," he began "is nature's kingdom. Just look! Green grass, a carpet of magnificent loveliness, uncapturable by any oriental rug-maker. The ground, so firm, so black and yet so beautiful."

The laughing snickers died away as he continued.

"Just look at that tree; the leaves so green that not even the great Da Vinci could reproduce them—all against the azure blue sky broken by fleecy clouds."

Suddenly the bell rang, the boy stopped talking. Class was over. The boy walked toward the door, led by a seeing-eye dog. The substitute stopped him at the door, "Beautiful day, isn't it?"

"Sure is," he replied.

The Land of Opportunity

► Chief Justice Harlan Stone was born on a farm in Chesterfield, New Hampshire in the year 1873. His family was not wealthy, but Harlan was ambitious enough to work his way through college. He studied scientific farming at Massachusetts Agricultural College. He graduated from Amherst College one year before Calvin Coolidge, who later appointed him a member of the supreme court in 1925. Stone was very versatile, and throughout his life he had many varied occupations. He taught physics, chemistry, and history after his graduation from college. He became a professor of law at Columbia University, where he later became dean. Next he became a partner in the New York law firm of SULLIVAN AND CROMWELL, the wealthiest law firm in the world. He was an excellent lawyer, as he had been excellent in everything else he had done. Stone became Chief Justice of the United States in the year 1941, and he established his reputation for liberalism. He was among those who struggled to re-interpret the constitution for the welfare of the people. He often denounced the conservatives for refusing to allow either the federal or state legislatures to pass laws needed for social reforms.

Throughout his life Stone was very active in all fields. While in college he had developed a marvelous physique by participating in football and other sports activities. He died on April 22, after a trying day in court.

Where else could anyone have achieved these goals except in America, the land of opportunity!

A Hair Raising Crusade

► Instantly upon reading about the increased price of haircuts and shaves, I decided to embark on a lone crusade. I had several ideas in mind for reducing the prices which were, namely: (a) Comb the hair with a mixture of crankcase oil and emery dust as this would have a very dulling effect upon the clippers and incidentally your hair also. (b) Use a 99.44% pure solution of carbolic acid for shampooing as this would eliminate all hair and probably the user. -(c) Ban the sale of Wildroot Cream Oil, thereby spreading dandruff which would speedily remove the hair. For those who shave I recommend (d) an acetylene torch. Unfortunately these ideas all presented slight difficulties so I took the matter to the president of the Barber's Union himself.

On entering the president's outer office I noticed his picture on the wall. Despairingly I saw that he was as bald as a billiard ball and had a two foot beard. I realized that I could expect no aid from him, and I must admit my crusade's failure. Nevertheless my suggestions are free for anyone's use; but remember before using (b) or (d) that cemetery lots are very expensive at the present time.

Childhood Adventures

When I was just a little tot
My favorite time of day
Was the hour before my bedtime
When my daddy used to say:

"Story time is here again
So climb upon my knee,
And we will go adventuring
Together—you and me."

Then he would tell me tales of old
Of brave knights and beautiful queens
Pirates bold, and glittering gold
Strange and wonderful things.

Then off to bed half-asleep
To wander in a far-off land
These tales would turn to living scenes
While my daddy held my hand.

A Crusade For Happiness

► Half a dozen of us boys and girls started out on a search for the definition of happiness, eager to learn where we could find it. Walking down the street, the first person we met was a young lady who looked as though she were in a hurry. We asked her the definition of happiness and where we could find happiness. She said, "Well, kids, I'm in a hurry, but let me tell you the quickest way to get an answer to your problem is to look it up in a dictionary. Well, I'll be on my way. Goodby." We knew she wasn't a happy soul, and that was no answer to our question. Walking still farther on we met a fruit peddler. We put the question to him, who said, "I myself think, kids, that happiness is money, and there is no place to find it. One has to be born with it. Like me, I have no happiness; I'm just a fruit peddler, and I have to work hard to live; so why be happy?" We really felt sorry for this person, because he was the poorest soul of all. Moving still farther on, we met a very nice old gentleman. We asked him, and he said in a very kind voice, "Happiness is the ability to feel right with the world. And the place to find it—? Well, that place is right in your own heart. If you have it there, you will have it forever." We knew he was right, and that our search was ended for we had happiness in our own young and strong minds and heart.

Snappy Locks in Reverse

► Gone are the days of flowing skirts, long hair, and point-toed shoes. Today the style has been reversed, and despite the continual objection of parents, teen-age girls still hold to their now famous fad of saddle shoes, blue jeans, and sloppy joes.

Size doesn't matter anymore. The bigger the clothes are the better she likes them. For this reason boys' sweaters and sox are ideal.

Not long ago fashion designers tried to do away with this "unladylike fashion" as they called it. They tried to make snappy suits and dresses top the list of the teen-age girl's wardrobe. Finding that it was useless they finally gave up.

However, when Junior Miss goes out she does take pains to look her best. She wears one of her pretty dresses, high heeled shoes, and nylons, if she is lucky enough to have them. But when she returns she is glad to put on her jeans and saddle shoes.

It seems that she has decided that this style is the most comfortable one she has yet come upon, and maybe that is one of the reasons why she holds to it so strongly.

A U. N. O. Delegate Speaks

We left Him out of all our plans,
His name was never mentioned in our talk;
No wisdom, nor guidance, nor benediction were sought from His Almighty hands,
No foreboding for the path which we would walk
We put our trust but in ourselves
And day by day, we made weak man the measure of our deeds.

Too self-reliant, too mighty, too proud to pray,
We,—ourselves were sufficient for all our needs!
Little wonder then that all our charters, all our plans did come to naught
And all our towers were destroyed!
Little wonder then, the peace for which so many fought,

So many died, was soon becoming void!

"Sign your name, each and everyone,

And things will be just fine."

Without a doubt!

The U. N. O. will fail, if God's left out.

What America Means to Me

► What does America mean to you? That seems like a silly question, but stop and consider it for a minute. What does it mean?

Well, to me, America means a place of golden opportunities where one has Freedom of Speech, Freedom of Worship, Freedom from Want, and Freedom from Fear. But that is not all. America is also a land of beauty, a place where we can go to school, to the movies or to dances, and eat what we like when we want it, with joy in our hearts and not with fear of being caught or punished.

America is a place where all races, creeds, and colors live in close harmony. In America we all enjoy the same rights and privileges.

America also means much to me in that it has so many sports that I enjoy, such as, football, baseball, basketball, volleyball, swimming, hiking, bowling, and many other good clean games which everyone enjoys and loves.

All I can say is "Thank God I live in America."

American Children at Play

You hear them laugh, you hear them shout,
You watch them as they run about
They look so happy; carefree and gay
Are these American children at play.

They have their games, they have their fun,
They're happy from morn till the day is done;
And as their elders look on you can hear them say,
"Oh, what I'd give to be a child at play."

As they run about the prairie, the yards, the park,
They still have gay times when the day grows dark,
So don't try to grow up before your day,
'Cause you'll always envy the children at play.

Freedom's Children

Have you ever walked past a playground or a park and seen children happily playing? Whether it be spring, summer, fall, or winter, our American children have found that they can have enjoyable moments in places founded by a free, peace-loving nation. Yes, these scenes are seen daily in our

America. In the spring we see them in all delight because of the first sign of the birds and how they "just can't wait until summer comes" so as to be out without their bothersome coats and swing on the swings, play in the sand, and on the slides. Then fall comes and they are looking forward to the snow so they can make snowmen, can enjoy ice skating, or go sledding. Usually they come in with rosy cheeks and an appetite comparing with that of an adult. These are "American's Freedom Children," too young to know the hate and evil in the world. Ought we not stop and be thankful to God that we still have children of freedom in our land that will grow up to fine, honest, American citizens?

War Time Economy (Our Ford)

She was born in thirty-seven
That's a long, long time ago,

To stay in traffic's flow.

It's true the motor always starts,
But, gosh, how she does rattle.
When into second you would shift,
She ups and gives you battle.

Then when you step upon the clutch,
There is an awful grind;
It sounds like something deep within
Is about to begin to bind.

Eyes

► Eyes are the best means of expressing one's sentiment. Have you ever watched the eyes of a magician? They can turn from burning balls of fire to shining black buttons deeply set in his head, then when they go into another performance, they change from cold, hard steel to soft, dangerous quicksand, and just as treacherous. All this is going on as he performs his amazing tricks.

One person's eyes can convince you of the truth by the innocence imprinted in them, while another's can lie as well as the tongue. The eyes of a child are interesting to watch because they relate the very spirit that is in it.

Poets have written many a verse about the eyes, as you may have seen or heard. A young flabbergasted gentleman beseeches his lady-love through flattery of her eyes and other features of her face to marry him or show a little more affection toward him.

It is quite interesting to watch the eyes of people at a boring lecture, or an inspiring speech, and adventure movie or a thrilling concert. They range from dismal to interested to rapturous or wild to dreamy.

Eyes come in many colors just as materials. I have seen blue ones, brown ones, green ones, and many times ones that look like black. Some are green flecked with gold, or blue grey and even a slight tinge of brown mixed with the blue. They also have many expressions but are too numerous to mention.

Eyes can truly express one's feeling and moods.

The Last Bell

I've got spring fever badly; my head is in the clouds,

I walk down Fenger's hallways, not noticing the crowds.

My thoughts are calm and peaceful 'til I glance up at the clock,

I've only one more minute, I find out with a shock;

I think of room 126 and suddenly come alive,

My class is in 350; I'm now near 105!

People stare as I dash by, and some fall at my feet,
No time to say "I'm sorry"; That bell I've got to beat!

In several flying leaps I take those thousand, slippery stairs;

I knock two more girls down, but—at a time like this—who cares?

I've still got miles and miles to go, but here's the upper floor;

I see that cruel clock—oh, no!—just fifteen seconds more,

But there's my room, and so I guess I'll make it—I can tell,

When out of nowhere comes that fatal sound—the final bell!

America at Night

▶ Hearing nocturnal sounds is sometimes pleasing and interesting, and, sometimes irritating, but to learn them all and distinguish one from the other is an art which is difficult to thoroughly perfect. To begin with, there is the sound of the distant whistle; sometimes that of the train, or the river boat, or perhaps that of the steel mill to signify the changing of shifts. Often at night as one lies in bed awake, the sound of the hooting owl, a baying dog, a honking of the horn, or even the cry of a discontented baby down the block, comes impressively through the open window. All of these sounds could be of a spring, summer, or an autumn evening, or even in the winter when the earth is covered with a soft, frosty blanket of white. The silence of the evening is like the stillness of death and many blocks away the crunching of snow under the rolling wheels of an automobile can be heard quite clearly, and the sound of a dog as it romps through the snow is like the crunching of gravel beneath the foot of a giant. Most of us hear all of these sounds, and recognize them, but seldom give them much thought.

Remember, and listen for them—they are America at Night.

And you lay there stiff with worry, wondering what the noise could be?

With your head beneath the covers, you shut from ear and sight,

The awesome, fearsome noises that come in the dark at night.

You seem to lie for hours, wonderin' if the thing is gone,

Wishin' for the peace and comfort that comes with breaking dawn,

And glancin' out from the covers you find the morning light,

Has erased the fears and worries and the noises in the night.

America at Play

▶ I have seen America at work. All during the war, she worked without rest, and without relaxation. Now that the troubled seas of war have again been calmed, America has time to play again. For the men perhaps, the shade of a sturdy oak on the banks of a trout filled stream, with a reel and tackle and a hat full of flies by his side, is the most desired. For the women, a hammock strung between two birch trees, plus a lot of shade and quiet, may be a cherished dream. For the children a beach, a baseball diamond, a ball, and a bat would be fun! ## Thrills!!

▶ We were driving along in a car on a steep incline a few miles away from Estes Park on a warm July day.

As we rounded a bend in the road, we saw a huge hill ahead. A few minutes later, we began our climb up. As we neared the top, we could see that the road ahead made a sharp turn. We were about to make the turn when, to our dismay, the motor began to sputter, and then it died. In spite of the brakes, we slipped into a roll backwards, down the long hill. We started to move faster and faster, and we were soon approaching the place where the road turned. The driver tried to turn, but it seemed that the steering rod had broken. We were now within fifty feet of the bend, and, if a miracle did not happen to aid us, soon we would be off the road, down into a deep one hundred and fifty foot gully. On and on we went, until a crash, and the car was hurling into space.

A sudden thud and I woke up with an intense headache, for I had fallen out of bed during a thrilling nightmare.

The Effects of Music

► Music is a language of the emotions.

It can make you happy or sad. It can make you cry. It can make you laugh. It can make you sleepy. It can keep you wide awake.

Music can take you around the world—from Greenland's icy shores, to the warm south, to Europe's great Cathedrals, to the mysterious Orient.

It can tell you how people lived centuries ago, how they toiled, laughed, and played.

Music can make you feel as though you are living in the world of yesterday, among its cathedrals, in its quaint towns.

It can make you feel the world of today, its sky-scrapers, its factories, its bustling cities.

It can tell you about the people of the northland, Norway; of the southland, sunny Italy, of England, China, Belgium, and our own country, the United States, it tells you.

This puzzles those who now are old,
But once, a long, long, time ago
They were young, and so they know
That, though teen-agers seem quite queer,
They are growing year by year
To dwellers of tomorrow's world,

Pushes up flow'rs.
Rising, just to end itself in June,
It lengthens the hours
Nothing seems to show,
Giving us robins to sing,
When sulphur's in molasses,
you'll know
This something is spring.

Sports

There's swimming in summer
And hiking in fall
But I think of baseball,
As the best of them all.

There's sledding and coasting
And tennis galore
To stir each to his core,
In nature's great lore.

IVANA TIETZ, MT. VERNON

Bowling Sight

► When you are out bowling you not only see adults bowling, but to your surprise you see a little girl about four feet high, lifting up that big, heavy ball. You are wondering how she can hold it when all of a sudden you see the ball flying down the alley, with her still standing up. Now, you're looking to see if the ball lands in the gutter so you can get a good laugh. Your face turns colors when everybody is yelling out "A Strike." You know you couldn't do better yourself, so you have to give a good excuse "Beginner's Luck" you say.

America at Play

► Now that the war has ended and all work has slackened down, our great country has time for relaxation. The country is now in its stage of "America at Play."

The baseball season has just started, and almost all the school kids are turning out for this ever popular sport. Most school gym periods and lunch periods are filled with the excitement and action of this famous sport.

If you were to make a tour of a section of our great city, Chicago, you would find all types of people engaged in the game of baseball. You would find broken windows, children running, people having fun playing.

To me baseball is one of the outstanding symbols of "America at Play." It marks our freedoms; it is a just example of what our country is because of the efforts of countless people and their countless sacrifices.

JOHN JACUS, MT. VERNON

Will I Hit That Ball

The bases were loaded as Mary hit the ball.
All three started running. Would I on third fall?
I ran and I ran to get to home plate,
Yes, I did get there,—but it was too late;

I made the first out, and my turn came to bat.
Strike one; then strike two. Where was the ball at?
The third pitch had then left the pitcher's hand;
The team by now shouted and screamed in demand;

I closed my eyes and tried with my best.
I hit the ball; and in the field does it rest!
Surprised was I! A hit! What fun!
The only trouble was—I forgot to run.

The School Room Is a Bee-Hive

► There are three classes of bees—drones, queen, and workers. We have the same classification in a school-room. The queen is the teacher or director. She tells us what to do, and we are supposed to obey her. This is true with a queen bee; she directs the other bees. Then we have the drones. They don't like to do a bit of work. The human drones just sit back and relax. Usually they are the people who copy. Last of all we have the worker bees doing all the work. Quite often the drones get credit, just copying what the more energetic ones have done.

The pupils are like bees; they buzz about in the school-room as bees buzz about in the beehive.

Spring

Winter seemed so very long,
We would like to hear a robin's song;
A blade of grass, or a bud on a tree,
Would be a beautiful sight to see.
If spring is kind and does not tarry,
We may taste our first strawberry.
To feel the warmth of an evening breeze,
To know that those buds will soon be leaves,
It's nature's way of showing,
This is the time for sowing
Flowers for beauty, grains to eat.
These are the things that make spring so sweet.
VIVIAN WARNER, BURNSIDE

Why I Like Spring

► Why do I like spring? I like spring because that's the time of year when the flowers no longer hide under the brown earth; then the trees let their buds spring forth. The grass gets green and new life is showing all over the United States.

I like spring because it gives me a feeling of freshness and hope. It gives a feeling of hope because the flowers may die after one spring, but the next spring I can come back and find them there again. Flowers never seem to die forever. They just go to sleep through the winter; then spring re-awakens them.

This is why I like spring.

BARBARA GUZINSKI, BURNSIDE
Courier Lit. Cont., 2nd Pl.

Mother

Oh, Mother dear, I thank thee, for all you've done for me,
You've guided me and helped me—all I can now foresee,
In all the trouble I've made for you; you really didn't mind,
And all the goodness I'd like to give is really hard to find.
You sacrifice your pleasure to try and comfort me,
I regret all wrongs that I have done
Because you suffered. Let me be Helpful and cheerful, without too much fun.
When I was sick and lay in bed,
Your refreshing hand was on my head.
You're always there to guide my way,
And help me too, day after day.
May God give his blessings, and happiness to you,
Because, dear Mother, you've been so kind and true.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

111TH STREET AND PERRY AVENUE, CHICAGO

Pullman 7800

The Roseland Community Hospital School of Nursing was established in 1924. The School is accredited by the Illinois State Board of Nurse Examiners and has affiliation with Cook County Hospital, Chicago, Illinois, in psychiatric nursing, communicable disease and pediatrics.

The Roseland Community Hospital, of which the School is a part, is a member of the American Hospital Association, The American College of Surgeons and the American Medical Association.

The Nursing School prepares young women through their training to meet the ever-increasing demands made upon the Professional Nurse of today; it maintains a high morale by a broad program of extra curricular activities, and graduates of the Roseland Community Hospital School of Nursing are eligible for membership in the Red Cross Nursing Service and the American Nurses Association.

Our country has great need for competent well-trained nurses to care for the health of its citizens to maintain the health of the nation. The fields of service, achievement and interesting employment are many.

Roseland Community Hospital admits classes in September and February of each year.

TRAGEDY IN A SCHOOLROOM

(Apologies to Edgar Allan Poe)

Once upon a school day dreary, while I pondered weak and weary,

Over many a quaint and curious magazine of Superman—

While I nodded, nearly sleeping, I heard a voice loudly speaking,

It was my teacher who was speaking, my attention
she did demand.

She saw the book that I was reading, the situation
was misleading,

She took the book out of my hand.

"Give it back," I begged, I pleaded. She turned away,
my plea unheeded,

My request was superseded by the need for a reprimand.

The magazine was lost to me, I realized I'd never see
The end of the adventure of my hero—Superman.

CHILDHOOD CURIOSITY

Curiosity killed the cat
But my curiosity did worse than that—
I killed my child!
Her golden hair which was highly piled
Made her a picture,
For my eyes, a lure.
A wonder to me—she would always behave
Never a single pert back talk she gave.
She would shut her blue eyes—
And I never tell lies—
Only when flat on her back!
Alack! for her, Alack!
Had she but blinked,
Or even winked,
Or even just once cried,
She might never, through my fault, have died.
I wondered what went on inside!
I wondered what her head did hide.
So I opened her head,
After which she was dead,
Just to see what was inside,
I found she had nothing to hide.
You see I was just five
When my doll was alive,
But I made her quite dead
Just to examine her head!

JOSEPHINE LA GRECO

CRUSADE TO CHANGE THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

► Ray "The Brain" Taylor had another brainstorm. "Abandon our modern gibberish, petty English. Return to our original Anglo-Saxon, which is sturdy, strong and, ah, so commanding," preached Ray.

Our hero organized a crusade. All who joined would receive as an inducement, the advice of the brain himself in all math and physics problems. Forty members were recruited and received instructions. Anglo-Saxon was to be spoken at all times, even at school.

The crusade was on! An English class would sound thusly: "William, recite your composition." "In soth, I will. 'Twas a beautiful night and the stars shown in welkin, as a mickle mourning man walks, deep in ween. A grim shadow-stalker creeps behind him. A hand is raised and a blow crushes the man's bone box as ———" "Just a minute, young man. Is this your idea of a joke?" "Nay, 'tis a bit of Anglo-Saxon, defended the crusader. "Well, take your Anglo-Saxon down to 126 and stay there."

One twenty-six was filled to capacity that day. Confusion and turmoil reigned. Ray himself was brought before the bar of justice. "Our cause is lost. I will not go down in history, in fact, I am suspended! Alas!"

EDWARD GOMBORSKI, 3A

I'm No Poet

Well, let me see—
My English teacher wants
A poem from me.
How's this?
"Roses are red and Violets are blue."
Oh, that's too corny
I need something new

Like:
Nasturtions are purple,
Daffodils are red,
If you can do better
Why just go ahead.
Oh, that won't do
And everyone does know it
I give up
I can never be a poet.

BARBARA SIMONS

SPRINGTIME

As the sun creeps over the mountains,
And the flowers turn to the east,
The birds begin to flutter about
To prepare for the Springtime feast.

The echoes of the mountains
Give back their merry singing
Till it is heard from far and wide
Like chapel bells when ringing.

The sun clothed in its golden robe,
Floats upward through the sky,
To the highest of the fleecy clouds,
And there it seems to lie.

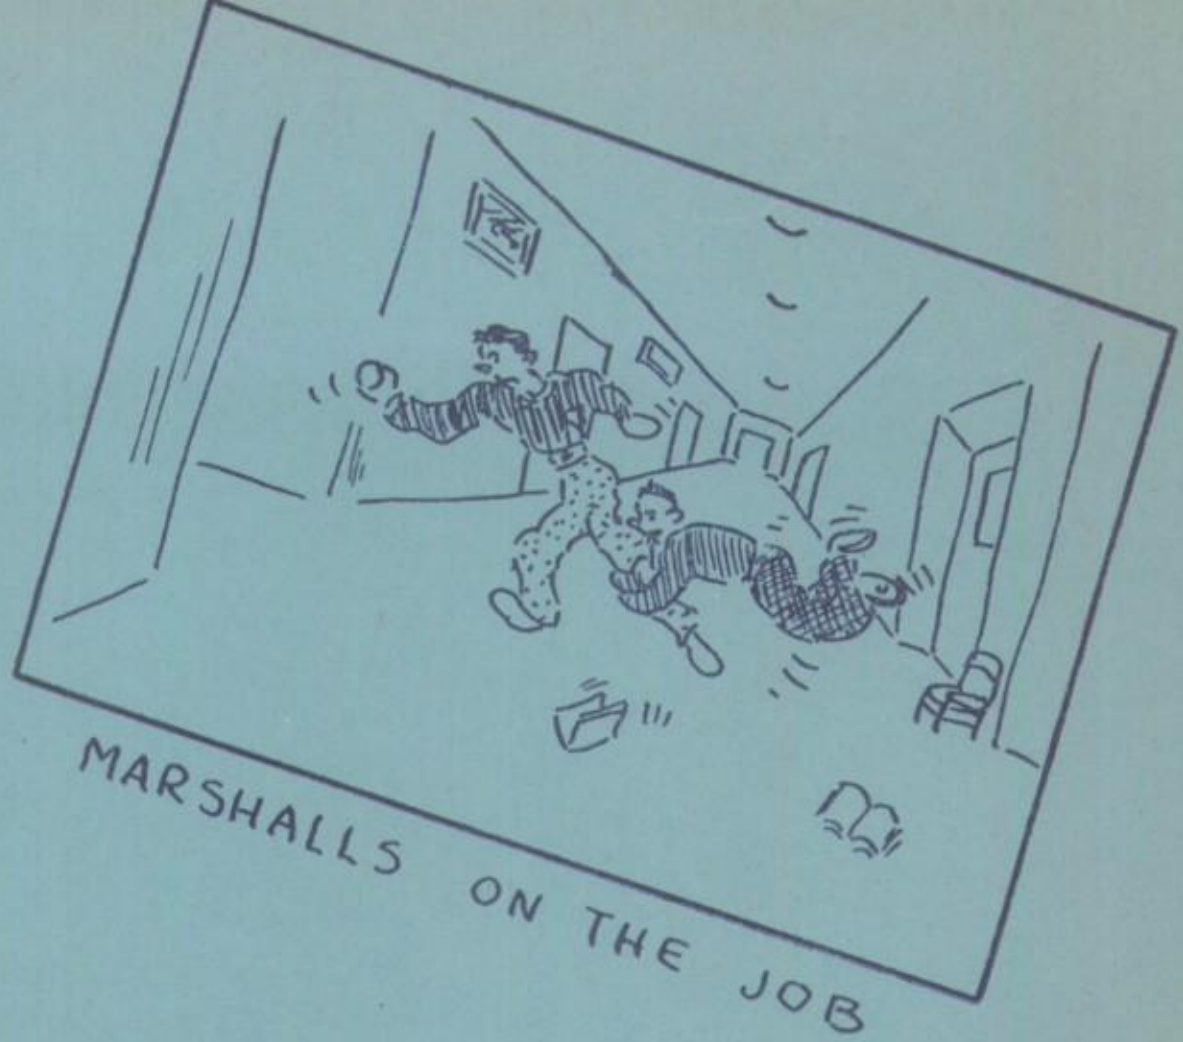

The flowers turn their eager heads
To catch the dazzling rays,
As the never resting ball of gold
Disappears into the haze.
